

The Natural Answer To HIV/Aids

Open Letter to the People of South Africa

From Dr. Matthias Rath, M.D.

Do Not Let the Pharmaceutical Investment Business Turn South Africa Into Its Next Battleground!

DEAR CITIZENS OF SOUTH AFRICA:

The current HIV/Aids epidemic, afflicting the lives of millions of South Africans, is being abused by the internationally operating pharmaceutical cartel. The drugs they offer, most notably anti-retroviral drugs (ARV's) do not cure this epidemic and have severe side effects. These side effects cause new diseases which require even more pharmaceutical drugs. South Africa is becoming the battleground for the pharmaceutical industry to maintain its unethical investment "business with disease" in the developing world.

As the physician and scientist who, together with my colleagues, has contributed to scientific breakthroughs in the field of natural health, I realize that the time has come to stand up and state the facts:

THE SCIENTIFIC FACTS:

- All viruses that have been investigated, including the Human Immunodeficiency Virus (HIV) can essentially be blocked by specific micronutrients. In a landmark study published in the official Proceedings of the National Academy of Sciences USA, ascorbate (vitamin C) has been shown to decrease the replication (multiplication) of the HIV by more than 99%! (PNAS 1990, 87:7245-49).
- Viral diseases are essentially unknown in the animal world, because most animals - as opposed to humans - produce high amounts of vitamin C in their body.
- All viruses spread in the body by using the same biological scissors (enzymes) able to cut their way through the connective tissue of the body. These enzymes can be partially or completely blocked by means of the natural amino acid lysine.

Thus there is a scientifically proven natural and non-patentable alternative to pharmaceutical HIV drugs that are patented, largely unaffordable and associated with severe side effects. These natural approaches can be applied immediately and everywhere as an effective, safe and affordable tool in the battle against HIV/Aids.

THE POLITICAL FACTS:

- The pharmaceutical investment business thrives on the continuation of diseases. Prevention and eradication of diseases including HIV, cancer and others would essentially terminate this investment industry based on patented drugs.
- To avoid that, the pharmaceutical cartel is pouring billions of Rands into South Africa with the goal to fool millions of people in South Africa about the fact that natural, non-patentable health approaches are already available and in order to secure the continuation of the pharmaceutical multi-billion dollar business with the HIV/Aids epidemic.
- Towards this end the pharmaceutical cartel influences the media, promotes ARV pushing pressure groups and even uses politicians to demand that the South African government should spend ruinous amounts of money to maintain the investment business with HIV/Aids.

THE SOLUTION:

What is urgently needed is a comprehensive health plan for the people of South Africa and beyond that is founded upon science-based natural health research. With millions of lives at stake and abundant scientific studies in natural health already available, the time to act is now!

Do not be fooled by politicians who drive their election campaign on free distribution of anti-retroviral pharmaceutical drugs - without understanding the scientific or medical facts.

Continue to trust those politicians who address the HIV/Aids epidemic with a comprehensive prevention and treatment plan that includes the use of science-based natural health approaches.

On April 14th, vote for responsible politicians determined to build a healthy nation with programmes to defeat malnutrition, including vitamin deficiency, and thereby turn the tide against HIV/Aids and other diseases.

With best wishes for your health,

Matthias Rath, M.D.

Dr. Rath is the world-renowned scientist and physician who led the breakthrough in the natural control of several of today's most common diseases. The late two-time Nobel Laureate Linus Pauling - himself a pioneer in natural health research - considered Dr. Rath as his successor.

With this public health information Dr. Rath wants to assist the people and the government of South Africa to decrease their dependency upon the pharmaceutical investment 'business with diseases.' This health information is supported by the Dr. Rath Health Foundation Africa, and by thousands of people who have been helped by natural therapies.

The Dr. Rath Health Foundation Africa is a non-profit organization dedicated to research and education in the area of science-based natural health. Its primary focus is to improve the health of millions of people - particularly in the developing world - through community-based health education programmes.

NATURAL HEALTH BREAKTHROUGH

Vitamin C Blocks the Multiplication of HIV Viruses by More Than 99%!

This landmark study documents that the HIV/Aids epidemic can be largely controlled by natural means. The scientific facts are beyond dispute. They are:

- obtained by leading HIV-researchers;
- coauthored by a two-time Nobel Laureate;
- published in the official scientific journal of the US Academy of Sciences;
- confirmed by many follow up studies;
- accessible to everyone on our website.

Leading researchers of this team are working together with our Foundation today. Together with you and your government we can implement these scientific findings into health policies everywhere now!

What are we waiting for?
